

InterPore Elections are coming up, spanning an election period from 01 - 30 November 2022. We wish to inform the Society members about the details of the election procedure.

Who will be elected? A new President-Elect, four new Council members and four new members for the Student Affairs Committee will be elected.

The terms of office of the current InterPore President is due to end on the last day of the InterPore Annual Meeting – 25 May 2023. As stipulated in the InterPore Bylaws, the current President, Michel Quintard, will transfer responsibilities to the current President-Elect, Karsten Thompson. As such, a new President-Elect needs to be elected.

In addition, the term of four Council Members will end on the same date, and four Council Members will be elected to replace the outgoing members.

Who is conducting the elections? The Election Committee, appointed by the current InterPore leadership, consists of Prof. Gabriel Wittum (Chair, Goethe University Frankfurt), Professor Iryna Zenyuk (University of California), Dr. Yixiang Gan (The University of Sydney) and Prof. Marios Valavanides (University of West Attica). Survey and Ballot Systems is offering a SBS Secure File Portal for our elections and the InterPore office will be conducting the technical implementation. InterPore, and the Election Committee in particular, is committed to ensuring a free, fair, and transparent election process.

How will you vote? All current InterPore members are eligible to vote and will receive an email from Survey Ballot Systems on 01 November which includes a personalized one-time link to our voting tool.

Who are the candidates? Detailed information on all candidates can be found on our website.
