

Hello InterPore Community,

Hope you're all having a fantastic start to the New Year! We're getting ready for InterPore 2024, and the support we've received so far has been nothing short of amazing. Huge shoutout to the awesome 13 donors who've already chipped in – your generosity is truly heartwarming.

Guess what? We're halfway to our goal, with €1360 in the bag. It's a great start, but we're dreaming bigger. We want InterPore 2024 to be a game-changer for scientists facing economic challenges in their countries.

So, here's the scoop: we're inviting every single one of you to be part of something special. Even a small donation from each of us can turn our dream into reality. We're not just aiming to meet our goal; we're aiming to smash it. Your contributions will go directly to travel grants, giving fellow scientists from less represented regions a chance to be part of the conference and bring diverse perspectives to the table.

Let's make InterPore 2024 a global hub of collaboration, learning, and idea exchange. Our unity is our strength.

A massive thank you to those who've already pitched in, and to those thinking about it – your support means the world.

Best regards,

InterPore Foundation
